

..... GUIN, Russell L., 1897- Of Illinois farmer parentage.
 : Farm and teaching experience in youth. Ohio Wesleyan,
 : A.B., 1917; Univ. Illinois, A.M., 1926. Teacher over CUT : 12 years in rural, village, and high schools, in Iowa, : Ohio, and Illinois. Past National President, American
 : Business Club. On Board of Trustees, Illinois Teachers Colleges. In great demand as public speaker. Vice President, Interstate Co., Danville, Illinois, 1931- Early saw the opportunity, and had the courage and foresight, to direct Interstate into publications devoted exclusively to education in vocational agriculture. By skillful and direct contact with leaders in this field, he has blue-printed and guided this unique and tip-top service. He has visited practically every state and national convention of The Future Farmers of America, and of teachers and leaders in vocational agriculture in the United States. Books published on all phases of education in vocational agriculture. Contributions not merely commercial, but in a high degree professional. This strong, wholesome, one hundred per cent American citizen has added honor and prestige to this local, state, and national movement; and his contributions will continue to guide and encourage future teachers and leaders in this important field of education for agricultural careers at dirt-farmer levels. -- A. W. Nolan and R. W. Stimson.
