

HOLLENBERG, Alvin H. 1901- Raised on a farm in Benton County, Oregon. Entered Oregon State College 1919. After one year of college, became manager of 300 acre fruit farm in California, specialist in fruit dehydration, 1920-25. Graduated Oregon State College in agricultural engineering, 1927. Teacher of agriculture, Atascadero, California, 1927-29, and at Watsonville, California 1929-31. Head of department of farm mechanics, California Polytechnic College, San Luis Obispo, California, adviser and farm mechanics specialist, State of California, and teacher trainer in farm mechanics, State of California, 1931-40. Special representative of the U. S. Office of Education, Food Production War Training Program, Western Region 1940- .

Special interests: farm mechanics in all its phases, development of agricultural departmental buildings. His influence on better farm mechanical training has spread through California and other western States. — F. W. Lathrop.

Hollenberg A. S. G. S. D.

