

..... HOSKINS, Edwin R., 1891- Of New York farmer parentage.
 : College education postponed by military service during : World War I. Cornell Univ., B.S., 1919; M.S., 1924; and CUT : Ph.D., 1933. Sec. Sch. prin. 2 years. Critic teacher in : a Cornell practice center at Trumansburg 5 years. Itin: erant teacher-trainer, N. Y. State, 3 years. Associate Professor Rural Ed. in teacher-training at Cornell Univ., for teachers of voc. ag. and leaders of part-time and adult ed., 1931-Author of "Young Men in Teaching," Edwards Brothers, Inc., 1942; also of numerous articles in ed. journals related to problems in voc. ed. in a ag. and part-time and adult ed.; and "Young Men in Farming," Voc.
 Ed. Bul. No. 188, 1936, published by U. S. Office of Education, Washington, D. C.
 Fifth generation to own or supervise ancestral farms. Experience in farm mgt. and in teaching rural schools, prior to entering college, awakened desire to aid rural youth in analyzing and solving farming problems. By programs, special studies, publications, and teaching, he has set high standards of service to rural youth, especially to out-of-school groups, since 1923; and thus has contributed to the best patterns of service in agricultural career education, not only in New York, but Nation-wide. -- R. M. Stewart and R. W. Stimson.

Hoskins, E. R.