

Albert Russell,
MANN, ALBERT RUSSELL, 1880 --. Cornell, B.S.A., 1904; Chicago, A.M., 1916.
Several honorary degrees and foreign decorations. Asst. Supt. Boston Farm and Trades School; Dean N.Y. St. Colls. Agric. and Home Econ.
1916-31, increasing annual support of Colls. from $518,000 to $2,171,000, and adding $4,700,000 buildings and equipments. Trustee four N.Y. St.
Schools of Agriculture, Hampton Inst., Farm Found., Cornell Univ. Chm.
two national coms. on collaboration and differentiation between Smith-Hughes and Smith-Lever workers. Chm. national com. on objectives 4-H Club work. Director Educ. in Europe for Intn. Educ. Bd. 1924-26. Since 1937, Vice-Pres. and Dir. Rockefeller Gen. Educ. Bd. Author, Beginnings in Agriculture, 1911; "Agricultural Education," Cyclo. of Social Sciences; advisory editor on Agriculture, Book of Popular Science.

Rural sociologist; administrator; leader in the improvement of rural life: a man of constructive imagination in suggesting means for meeting the needs of rural people as they seek higher standards of wholesome living; a skillful administrator of agricultural and educational programs in America and Europe; a democratic leader appreciative of the contributions of those associated with him; a man of action with broad sympathies and understandings as regards goals, issues and personalities in his field of work. -- --

~~For more about this distinguished contributor to Agricultural Education, see pp.~~

More about Dr. Mann
on pp. --

Julian E. Butterworth,
Director of the School of Education, Cornell University; and
R. W. Stimson.

Mann, A. R.

